Welcome...!!!

Dear Conference Delegate,

I'd like to personally encourage each of you to fully immerse yourself in the International Conference on Addiction Therapy & Clinical Reports 2019. The prominence of this conference validates where most of us have been all along: Addiction therapy is a core tenet of improving overall public health.

We're building upon the solid foundation we established at last year's inaugural conference in Paris. When we return to the drivers of addiction, we find vision, hope, strategy, and effective practices for innovative client-focused initiatives in a changing world, regardless of the drug of choice. This conference's aggressive international agenda takes on new relevance in our rapidly changing dialogue on what drugs do to a user, not what they think the drug is doing for them.

Further, we have a full schedule of 40+ sessions that address the breadth of our work from origins of addiction, the trends and treatments, the interventions, and the future. From the mouths of fellow practitioners, our conference promises meaningful insight revolving around the topics of best practices, technology, professional development, and continuum of care.

There will be many opportunities for networking and learning when you fully immerse yourself in the conference and our agenda. In a world undergoing real transformation, the International Conference on Addiction Therapy & Clinical Reports gives platform for meeting and sharing experiences with educators, practitioners, and faculty who improve outcomes for our clients.

Yours Sincerely

Scott Stevens
Author and Journalist at www.alcohologist.com, USA