The aerospace sector is more than just a single industry; it is a powerful mechanism for pulling through technologies, which in turn feed other industries. It is this powerful ripple effect throughout the Global economy which makes the Aerospace industry so important, and investment in innovation so key.

By setting up the foot prints in Recycling of Carbon Fiber and its applications in Aerospace industry which is new in Asian Pacific Region is the mission of NRN Aerospace Systems Private Limited.

Looking Forward to see you all in the Second Edition of ICEAAE - 2019 to share our knowledge between us to improve our ideas.
